Hong Kong Code of Marketing of Formula Milk and Related Products, and Food Products for Infants & Young Children ("HK Code")

A Summary of the HK Code

	Article	Major Provisions
1.	Title of the Code	This Code is named as the Hong Kong Code of Marketing of Formula Milk and Related Products, and Food Products for Infants & Young Children ("the HK Code").
2.	Aim and Scope	The HK Code aims to contribute to the provision of safe and adequate nutrition for infants and young children by protecting breastfeeding and ensuring the proper use of des- ignated products, on the basis of adequate and unbiased in- formation and through appropriate marketing.
		The HK Code applies to the following designated prod - ucts for infants and young children under 36 months old:
		 Infant formula Formula milk related products: Feeding bottles and teats Follow-up formula Prepackaged food products for infants and young children
3.	Definitions	Terms used in the HK Code are defined.
4.	Information and Education (to the general public, ex- pectant parents and parents)	 Information and education provided by manufacturers or distributors (M&Ds) M&Ds of designated products should not perform/sponsor educational activities nor produce and distribute informational / educational materials on breastfeeding and formula milk feeding. Nevertheless, M&Ds may: distribute and reproduce the informational / educational materials on breastfeeding and formula milk feeding prepared by the Department of Health, with the source of information acknowledged, and

Article	Major Provisions
	• produce, donate or distribute information- al / educational materials on matters related to infants and young children other than breastfeeding and for- mula milk feeding, provided that such materials do not contain the name, brand name, packshot, logo and / or trade mark of any formula milk and formula milk related product.
	Provision of product information by M&Ds
	M&Ds should only provide product information about for- mula milk, feeding bottles and teats upon request , via elec- tronic (e.g. websites, emails) or physical means (e.g. hot- lines, at the premises of retailers or at health care facilities). The information provided should be factual and correct and does not undermine or discourage breastfeeding.
	Notification of pre-order service for formula milk provided by any parties should only contain essential information pertaining to the operation of order and delivery.
	Information and education provided by other parties
	Parties other than M&Ds may produce or distribute infor- mational / educational materials on infant-and-young-child feeding and nutrition, provided that such materials:
	• do not contain the brand name, logo or trade mark of formula milk and formula milk related product nor the name of M&Ds except for matters concerning public health/risks, and for patient care; and
	• explain the relevant points about breastfeeding, com- plementary feeding, formula or bottle feeding as speci- fied.
5. Promotion to the Public	M&Ds should not carry out promotional activities involv- ing formula milk, and formula milk related products. Such activities include but are not limited to advertising, using special displays, and offering prizes or gifts such as free samples.
	M&Ds may promote prepackaged food for infants and young children, provided that the promotional activity does not:
	• cover infants less than 6 months of age,
	• take place in health care facilities, and
	• promote formula milk or formula milk related prod- ucts.

Article	Major Provisions
	M&Ds should not seek directly or indirectly personal de- tails of infants, young children, expectant parents or parents of children under the age of 36 months; or inviting their participation in activities including baby shows and mother craft activities, for the purpose of promoting designated products.
6. Promotion in	M&Ds of designated products should not:
Health Care	• offer free designated products;
Facility	• provide equipment, gifts or samples; and
	• promote or distribute designated products to any per- son via health workers / health care facilities.
7. Information and Promotion to	Informational materials about products provided by M&Ds should be limited to scientific and factual matters.
Health Workers	M&Ds may provide designated products to health workers only for the purpose of professional evaluation or research at the institutional level.
	Sponsorship of Continuing Medical Education Activities:
	• M&Ds should exert no influence on the choice of speakers, topics to be discussed and sponsorship recipients.
	• Any interest in or relationship with M&Ds should be disclosed.
	• M&Ds should not distribute gifts / materials or pro- mote designated products through the continuing edu- cation activity.
8. Labelling	The container or label of a designated product should not:
	• include any image, text or other representation that is likely to undermine or discourage breastfeeding, that makes a comparison to breastmilk, or that suggests that the product is nearly equivalent or superior to breast- milk;
	• promote bottle feeding; and
	• convey an endorsement by a professional or other body.

Article	Major Provisions
	Product labels of formula milk, feeding bottles and teats should clearly state breastfeeding as the norm of infant feeding. Product labels of formula milk should also clearly state the need for the advice of a health professional before the use of formula milk and the health hazards of its use.
9. Implementation and Evaluation	M&Ds themselves are responsible for monitoring their marketing practices according to the principles and aim of the HK Code.
	Non-governmental organisations, professional groups, in- stitutions and individuals concerned are invited to draw the attention of M&Ds to activities which do not follow the principles and aim of the HK Code.
	All parties are invited to collaborate with the Government to evaluate the overall effectiveness of the HK Code.
	Surveys will be conducted from time to time to evaluate the overall trends in marketing practices of designated prod- ucts. Feedback and suggestions from members of the pub- lic will also be collated and analysed. The overall effec- tiveness of the HK Code will be reported to the Committee on Promotion of Breastfeeding, which will further advise the Government on the future strategies and actions to pro- mote and protect breastfeeding and infant-and-young-child nutrition.

Food and Health Bureau Department of Health June 2017